Call & Response
PREGNANCY AND PARENTING SUPPORT GROUP FOR BLACK FAMILIES

This group is designed to create the village experience of Black families by helping us build community and learn from one another.

This group provides a healing space for parents to connect with each other and support one another as they walk the intersectional path of parenting while Black.

This group centers the experiences of Black families raising children 0-2.

Facilitated conversations will explore & celebrate the Black experience and historical resilience through the lens of pregnancy and parenting.

Tuesdays
11:00 am - 12:30 pm
Starting October 26, 2021

Facilitated By:
Latonia Westerfield & Marquita Straus

Hosted by:
PERINATAL SUPPORT WASHINGTON

This is an inclusive space that is open and affirming for Queer and Trans black parents. In this group, we celebrate and welcome all the ways we show up as Black people who are parenting.
