

Share the Findings of your Walking Audits

Your community has found some barriers to engaging in physical activity in public spaces. Now, share your information with the Health Department, your community, and an appropriate institution which can address the barrier. There are many ways to advocate for walking safety, find the ones that work for your community.

